HEADQUARTERS BULLETIN.

HEADQUARTERS GRAND ARMY OF THE REPUBLIC, WASHINGTON, D. C. J

The morning of Memorial Day the Commander-in-Chief spent at Parkersburg, W. Va., where he made an address at the cemetery to a large concourse of veterans. In the afternoon he took the train for Marietta, which place he reached in the evening. The Memorial meeting was held in the large city hall, which was crowded. The principal speaker was Gen. John Eaton, late Commissioner of Education, and now President of Marietta College. The Commander-in-Chief also made an address. On Tuesday morning Gen. Burdett started for Noblesville, Ind., at which place he was met by a delegation of the comrades of Lookout Post. In the evening a meeting was held in the Court-house, which was largely attended, the Commander-in-Chief making a short speech. Wednesday evening found him at Indianapolis, in attendance at the great Campfire which was held in an immense hall under the auspices of the Grand Army. The entertainment was got up for the purpose of raising funds for the Grand Army monument, and was held on both Thursday and Friday evenings. Wednesday, however, was the principal day. The Commander-in-Chief was delighted with the performance, which included patriotic songs by a cherus of upwards of 600 voices. During the evening addresses were made by Gens. Sherman, Logan, Ben. Harrison, Gibson and Burdett. On the following morning the traveler left for Washington and reached here on the following day. At all points he found the utmost enthusiam expressed in regard to the National Encampment, and feels sure that every veteran who possibly can will certainly visit the sunset shores this bunimer.

In view of the rumors and allegations respecting the financial condition of the Department of New York, Inspector-General Vanosdel has been dispatched to New York to perconsily conduct an examination of the records of the Department with a view to ascertaining what the actual state of affairs is in that Department. The Commander-in-Chief met Comrade Vanosdol at Indianapolis, and there had a full consultation with him in regard to the matter, which resulted in the above action.

The greater number of the Commander-in-Chief's party have made arrangements to return by the Northern Pacific, and on the way to visit the Yellowstone Park. An effort will be made to have a sufficient acrober of returning Grand Army men make a stop there in order to have a Campfire among the mountains.

Col. J. G. Everest, of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Rallway, was a visitor at National Headquarters and at the editorial rooms of THE | and Regulations; and NATIONAL TRIBUNE Tuesday last. He informed us that all the New England Departments and those of New York and Pennsylvania would go to San Francisco by the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul as far as Chicago and from there by the Union & Central Pacific. Humason, of Post 131, Kasson, inspected James A. Goodwin Post, No. 81. The Post room was filled by comrades, and the inspection was very satisfac-tory, the records showing that there are 128 mem-bers in good standing. During the evening two recruits were mustered. The officers are all uniformed and armed, and as they have committed the charges to memory, the ecremonies are very impressive. After the close of the meeting, coffee and hardtack was furnished by the Quartermaster The Camp of Sons of Veterans came in to have a good old time with the Vets. No word was spoken of the recent doings of Jeff Davis, but the feelings were expressed when Comrade Lane walked across the floor and clasped the hand of Adj't Hellweg, and, while shaking as of old, they began to sing, "We'll hang Jeff Davis on a sour-apple tree," and the Vets and Sous all joined in the song. When it was finished it appeared to have relieved their feelings, and he was mentioned no more. The Post and Camp, with their large, well-drilled and uniformed drum corps, attended Memorial services on Sunday, May 30: Decoration Monday, and on Wednesday went as a Post and Camp to Wastea to attend the District Encampment.

SONS OF VETERANS.

WALTER S. PAYNE, Commander-in-Chief, Fostoria-T. G. CARLIELE, Adjutant-General, Fostoria, O.

Among the reports of the observance of Memorial Day from all parts of the country comes the intelligence that the Sons of Veterans quietly and unassimingly joined with the Posts in doing honor to the Nation's dead. More than that, they gladly took some of the burdens of the day from the their steps as they saw that willing feet and ready hands were being trained to carry on the work which, with increasing weakness, is yet lovingly performed by them. In many cases the Posts detailed the Camps to deposit the flowers on the graves; in others, the Camps assisted in this work. At Postoria, O., the Camp was detailed to strew the flowers; at Cleveland, O., the three Camps took important parts and assisted the various Posts in doing honor to the day; at Pittsburg the Camps turned out in large numbers, and performed creditably the several duties assigned them. Altogether, it would seem that the boys have caught up the strated to their fathers that the beautiful custom of yearly paying tribute to the Union's brave deenders will continue long after they are gone. Gen. George W. Penniman, of Minneapolis, Minn., Chief Mustering Officer of the Order, has been very busy for the boys during the past six weeks, averaging a travel of over 1,000 miles a week. He has visited the Division meetings of West Vir-J. H. Hellweg, Owatonna: Recently Capt. C. Y., May 31, on which latter occasion the boys of the Lowville Camp united in celebrating his 27th birthday. He will visit the Divisions of Vermont, Massachusetts, East Pennsylvania and West Pennsylvania, and possibly New Hampshire and Connecticut early in June, and next month will accompany Gen. Payne, Commander-in-Chief, to San Francisco. EKETCH OF THE VERMONT DIVISION. This Division was organized in 1883 by Gen. Bangs, who appointed F. D. Proctor, of Suther-land Falls, Colonel. His administration was one of marked energy. He was ably succeeded in 1884 by Louis V. Green, of Rutland. Col. Green turned the Division over to C. F. R. Jenne, of Brattleboro, who was elected Colonel May 5, 1885. The Camps then numbered about 18; now, at the close of Col. Jenne's term, they number 26, nearly all in an active and prosperous condition. Col. Jenne has an honorable record in the Order, and stands high in his community as a citizen and business man. He was a charter member of Col. Tyler Camp, No. 2, Brattleboro, organized March 2, 1883; passed the various chairs; served as Division Ordnance Officer; member of Division Council, Lieutenant-Colonel and Commander. His age is 29, and his business that of real estate and insurance agent. His father, from whom he derives membership, is Maj. B. R. Jenne, now of Hudson, N. V. He recruited a company at Rutland, Vt., and was mustered into service Sept. 16, 1861, at St. Albans, Vt., as Captain of Co. G. 5th Vt. When the Army of the Potomac was organized Capt. Jenne was assigned to the Second Brigade, Second Division, Sixth Corps, Army of wounded and taken prisoner of war June 29, 1862. On his release he was detailed as Acting Assistant Adjutant-General and Inspector-General of his old brigade. He was in the battles of Fredericksburg. Marye's Hights and Salem Hights, in Virginia;

Camp No. 68, at Columbia, was reorganized and mustered on May 27.—The membership of East Pennsylvania Division is a little over 1,700, which, added to West Pennsylvania, makes about 3,000 Sons in the Order in the State. Massachusetts.—Camp No. 64 was mustered at Spencer on Wednesday, May 19, by Mustering Officer Lovejoy .- A very general observance of Memorial Day by all the Camps is reported .-- This Division held a very successful Encampment at Boston on June 3. A synopsis of the proceedings and list of officers will be given in next TRIBUNE. Ohio,-D. Morris Camp, No. 106, was mustered May 22 at East Palestine, Columbiana County, by Maj. Calhoun, with 15 charter members. A num-ber of brothers of New Lisbon Camp attended the ceremony. Will Winters Camp, No. 86, of Ironton, is the largest Camp in the State, having 108 mem bers. Their claim to being the largest in any State, however, is a mistake, as two Camps in East Pennsylvania Division—viz: Meade Camp, No. 16, at Reading, and Anna M. Ross Camp, No. 1, of Philadelphia, have each a larger membership.—The Camp at Wellston, O., is captained by W. E. Bundy, editor of the Wellston Argus. His father, Sanford E. Bundy, was mortally wounded by a shell, while making a charge against Longstreet, near Bean Station, Tenn. The Camp is composed of 40 char-ter members, and is ably officered.

West Pennsylvania .- A new Camp was mustered at Edinboro, Eric County, Friday, May 28, by Gen. George W. Penniman, with 16 charter members.
This is the fourth Camp in Eric County.—At Meadville, Union Volunteer Camp, No. 49, did great credit to themselves by the manner in which they observed Memorial Day. They had 20 members in line, who accompanied the Post and veterage.

> June 4, 1886. Lovely May, fragrant with bud and blossom, bringing to every loyal heart the tender memories which come swelling up from the past as ripened into another June. As Memorial Day this year fell on Sunday, it seems to have given a double consecration to that holy day. the G.A.R. in all the services peculiar to the day, they gathered fresh inspiration to prosecute our specific work with renewed courage and zeal.

The long list of General Orders issued by the several Department Presidents, each containing most excellent instructions regarding our work on Memorial Day, impresses us as a chain of wonderful expressions, every one a link composed of eloquent thoughts expressed in choicest language, and all breathing a spirit of loywords our devotion to God and country.

While floods of letters regarding the services of Memorial Day, and asking advice as to Corps work in connection with it, kept the National President busy, yet she found time to prepare 91, at Foxborough, Mass., a large audience and Corps from Walpole, six miles away, were also present, so that there was the inspiration of such a large number of the old veterans, and the weather simply perfect, and I think more people took part in the services all over our State than ever before, except, perhaps, the first we asked of the Good Father that blessings un-

DEPARTMENT OF WISCONSIN. DEAR TRIBUNE: Rousseau Post and Rousseau Corps united in a proper observance of Memerial Day, both attending Memorial services in a body, followed the Post to the cemetery in carriages, to the schoolhouse grounds where the exercises of the day were held. Reaching the cemetery the Post was surprised by finding every grave beautifully corated by the loving hands of their co-workers. The grave of Mrs. Ed. Fink, who was one of their number, was literally covered with flowers, sur-mounted by a beautiful floral pillow and a cross. Every comrade in line was provided with a bouquet of flowers. At the Court-House yard the monument to the unknown dead was most tastefully decorated by the W.R.C. and comrades of the Comrade A. E. Haseltine was presented on the anniversary of his birthday (May 25) by the ladies of the Corps and several comrades with a nice easy chair and a copy of Mrs. Sherwood's " Campfire and Memorial Poems." It was a surprise party, the ladies providing an elegant supper, and a delightful evening was spent.—Elizabeth Little, Department Senior Vice President, Portage, Wis.

DEPARTMENT OF OREGON. DEAR TRIBUNE: Although we are away out here In the core of Cornwallis Valley, Ore., and our W.R.C. is not quite two prouths old, with only 10 members able to report for duty, yet you may like to hear what we are doing. At a stated meeting it was decided to give a pansy sociable, and in one week from that day a crowded hall, with our cor-net band playing, unsolicited, greeted us, and after all had spent a pleasant evening and dispersed, we found our treasury increased by a net clearance of $50. So we feel quite large, if we are young and only 16 members enrolled. The Ellsworth G.A.R. boys tendered their services with hearty good will on the occasion mentioned. All read THE NA-TIONAL TRIBUNE with pleasure and profit.—Lottie A. Daniels, Cornwallis, Ore.

PROVISIONAL DEPARTMENT OF NEW MEXICO. DEAR TRIBUNE: The institution of the Provisional Department of New Mexico marks an epoch in woman's work in our Southwest country. Friday evening at Las Vegas, Mrs. Cassie A. Hen-derson was duly installed Department President, and has begun an active and energetic administration. The exercises were under the auspices of | 22, East Los Angeles; Col. E. D. Baker, 23, New-Thomas Relief Corps, and were public, a large audience being present. The installation ceremony

DEAR TRIBUNE: In accordance with orders from Department Headquarters, Meade Post was inspected Monday evening by Assistant Inspector G. A. Hamilton. The meeting and inspection passed off nicely and quietly, but before the close an alarm was sounded on the picket-line, and the Sentinel announced the approach of a body so formidable in array and appearance that resistance was useless. This was the ladies of Meade Relief Corps. The Corps marched into the Post room carrying two fine silk Post guidons, beautifully designed by the artistic hand of Mrs. Dr. Ingersol, assisted by the other members, and in a nicely worded speech the President, Mrs. Klock, presented the guidons

Commander Woodside, after acknowledging the surprise complete, accepted the gift in behalf of the Post, in a graceful and elequent manner. The guidons being disposed of satisfactorily to all concerned, the ladies assumed command, ordered the comrades to their seats, and then surprised them again by a royal banquet, the material for which had been secreted in an adjoining room during the Refreshments over, the remainder of the evening was pleasantly spent in singing war songs, etc. Meade Relief Corps is composed of a noble band of workers whose ears are ever open to the eries of distress, and whose hands are never withheld when the hand of affliction settles upon an old soldier or family. Several ladies of this Corps were original charter members, and assisted in the organization of the National Woman's Relief Corps during the 17th National Encampment. The three Relief Corps of this city have just purchased a large fron urn, to be placed in the new Soldiers' Cemetery in memory of the "unknown dead." They made extensive preparations for Memorial Day, and in fact are always engaged in doing honor to the soldier, both living and dead. THE SOLDIER'S CONSOLATION. When languor and disease invade These trembling forms of clay, And Uncle Sam refuses aid,

DEPARTMENT OF OHIO.

DEAR TRIBUNE: It is with pleasure that I report the institution of Richard Keyes Relief Corps, No. 139, Remsen's Corners, May 22, 1886. A party of 19 ladies of Buckley Corps, No. 23, accompanied me into the country about 17 miles, going in a large band-wagon, four horses, regular pienic style, and on reaching the place where services were to be held, found ourselves in a great barn that had been transformed by the ladies and comrades into a perfect bower of beauty, full of evergreens ferus and mosses, interspersed with flowers, and so inviting to us all after our long ride. The work done by our entertainers was immense, showing great taste and perseverance. The meals served by the ladies from 2 o'clock until midnight, nearly, were indescribable; there being everything palatable, and in such profusion that the 700 fed seemed not to exhaust the supply. The tables ground under the good things, and were very In the afternoon the Corps was instituted, after which the ladies of Buckley Corps exemplified the work and initiated an elected candidate of Corps we remember the days of 1861 to 1865, has No. 23, who went along for that purpose. I think ripened into another June. As Memorial Day the 25 members of Corps No. 135 will prove themselves an honor to the Order, and a Corps the Post will be proud of. The Post, numbering 37 members, (live, energetic comrades,) are building a hall. Let us hope that as the W.R.C. united with The Post received $20 as a gift and the Core $5 for the name, Richard Keyes, from friends of the soldier for whom it was named. In the evening a Campüre was held, opened with singing of "America" by a fine choir accompanied by an organ and followed by prayer; then the officers of Corps were installed by myself, assisted by Mrs. Parker, of Corps No. 23, as Conductor; Mrs. Josslyn, Corps No. 23, Chaplain. After those exercises were closed, there followed short, bright addresses from E. T. Curtis, Chief Instituting and Installing Officer of Department of Ohio, G.A.R. (who also gave two fine recitations in his own admirable way); Com. Green, of H. G. Blake Post. Medina; alty to the living veterans as well as grateful remembrances of the fallen braves. So may we continue to prove by our works as well as spersed with remarks from Mesdames Haushalter. Codding, Chapman and others of Buckley Relief Corps, of Akron, all enlivened by the singing of old army songs and the music of the Hinckley Band, Commander Cutter and the comrades of Richard Keyes Post, as well as ladies, deserve especial praise for their untiring energy and an address, which she gave on the evening of attention to their guests, and as long as they work Memorial Day before E. P. Carpenter Post, No. as they do now there can be nothing to daunt them.

The hospitality of Comrade Sheldon, on whose beautiful farm this gathering was held, merits our having assembled at the Town Hall. The Post | hearty thanks for the many courtesies extended to the whole party. May he and his good wife be spared many years to enjoy their home and friends. The ladies were invited to visit H. G. At 6 p. m. the Post was invited to be present, and the newly-elected officers were duly installed in their respective chairs, after which short speeches were made by the Commander and the comrades present; also able remarks by the newly-elected President, Mrs. Sarah M. Hayward, and an address was read by the Instituting Officer, Mrs. Cay. Thanking the ladies for having organized with it would be the means of building the Post to twice its members. After the exercises were over, a few noments of general handshaking and congratulation, and all went home feeling that they had spent a pleasant and profitable afternoon and added 55 noble women to our grand Order of Fraternity, Charity and Loyalty, a Corps who will do their work right and help all who come under their care. We are receiving letters from women far and near who have been defrauded by these promises. Either the person forwarding the money gets no answer at all, or the materials and implements sent are of little worth, or the finished work is rejected even if well done, or other obstacles are placed in the way, (the object being simply to get rid of her). The parties advertising make frequent changes of name and address, with some difference the United States, Canada and the Provinces, hundreds of thousands of plausible circulars, well calculated to deceive, for not many of the hundreds of thousands of women receiving them are aware that by a single advertisement any city firm can get plenty of workers close at hand. It has been decided to make the trip on a special train over the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, going by way of Chicago, Omaha and Ogden to San Francisco, and returning by way of Ogden, Denver, Kansas City, St. Louis and Cincinnati. The train will leave here on the 25th or 26th of July, stopping one day in Chicago, and reaching San Francisco on Sunday, Aug. 1.

Arrangements have been made for car fare, sleeping-car fare and board for 30 days, the full extent of the trip, and the rate for all of these will be $150 for each person. Only two persons will be assigned to a section, thus securing to each passenger the use of one double berth. Each passenger will be entitled to carry 150 pounds of baggage free of charge. Meals will be served in a dining car attached to the train during the whole period, and ticketholders will have the exclusive use of their births for the whole time. The train will wait in Oakland during the stay in California, and will be reached from San Francisco by ferry over the bay, a most delightful 20-minutes' trip.
